

Health, Safety & Environmental (HSE) Policy

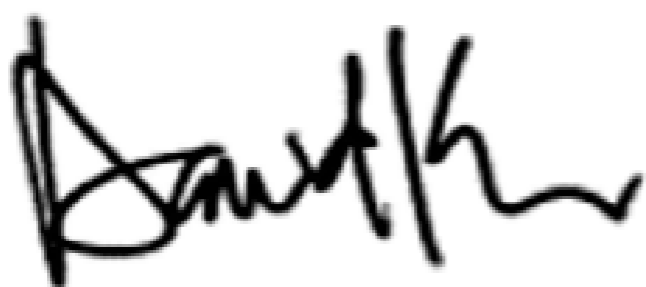

TÜV SÜD Malaysia is committed to conduct our business in a manner that protects the safety and health of our stakeholders and to provide resources in creating a hazards free conducive work environment in compliance with all applicable HSE's legal requirements of the countries where we operate.

Every level of staff, including the senior management has specific roles and responsibilities in HSE, and shall actively contribute and participate in all HSE-related initiatives. Together, we would prevent all workplace incidents.

Accordingly, our key initiatives are as follows:

- Compliance with relevant HSE's legal requirements in the countries of operation.
- Protection of safety and health of all stakeholders at the workplace.
- Continuously work with all stakeholders in identifying
- Preparedness for emergency
- Adoption of best practices in resource management and waste minimization.
- Communicate all relevant HSE information, changes and updates to all stakeholders
- Continuously work with all stakeholders in identifying HSE hazards, evaluating its risks and implementation of necessary controls to any operations that may have the potential to affect all stakeholders
- Continual improvement to our HSE management systems so as to meet changing business and legal needs.

All staff must be fully conversant with the directions contained in this policy. Only with your active support and participation, can we assure ourselves that all stakeholders' safety and interests are protected.
